FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Settlement for Loss of Rolls Royce Phantom

Our client's Rolls Royce Phantom was totaled while being driven by a friend. Our client was insured with Allstate for the loss. Our client cooperated fully and to the best of his ability with Allstate's investigation of the claim, including submitting himself to several statements taken by Allstate and its lawyers, prior to our representation of the client. Allstate's investigation focused on whether the insured was engaged in fraud and whether the vehicle was being used for non-covered business purposes. Almost 10 months after the loss and with Allstate still claiming that the file was under "investigation", the client's then lawyer filed a lawsuit against Allstate. Only then did Allstate send a letter denying the subject claim. Shortly into the litigation, the client's then lawyer withdrew his representation of the insured. The client then retained our services. Within a few months of our involvement in the case, we recovered the full value of the Rolls Royce plus attorney's fees and costs from Allstate and we brokered retention of valuable salvage rights over the Rolls Royce for the client. Having had his claim in limbo for over a year, our client was very happy with the quick six-figure resolution of the case after we got involved.
